

Candidates For City Council

Following is a list of the applications filed for the offices of city councilmen and justice of the peace for the election to be held April 5th:

For Councilman:
George Burrows.
Albert L. Roberts.
Carl Jensen.
Earle J. Hewitt.
Jesse E. Schoonover.
Roy Milnes.
Harry Reynolds.
George J. Bielski.
Chris W. Olsen.
George W. Burke.

Out of this group voters vote for five. The five having the largest number of votes will be declared elected.

For Justice of the Peace:

Hans Petersen.

Among this group for councilman four are present incumbents—Chris Olsen, Roy Milnes, Carl Jensen and Jesse E. Schoonover. Frank Sales who has served on the board for the past two years declined to become a candidate for reelection. He was one of the most active members on the council, and also served on the county board of supervisors. We appreciate the fine community service Mr. Sales has rendered and are sorry that he feels that he must retire, which he feels is necessary in the interest of his own business affairs. Mr. Olsen is mayor and also has served on the board of supervisors, and is an able representative of this community.

Hans Petersen, who is over 80 years of age, still seems to be doing a good job as justice of the peace. No petitions were filed for the office of constable.

IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE HELD MEETING THURSDAY

The March meeting of the Izaak Walton League was held at the courthouse last Thursday evening. Various topics were discussed, including fire lanes, stream improvements, and types of fish ladders that are most beneficial to our streams.

Plans to have a skeet club this summer by the League was also discussed but at present more information is being secured in regard to skeet shooting, and will be discussed at the next meeting.

A number of members attended the conservation meeting held at Roscommon on Friday night. The opening of the Hanson military reservation was brought up at the meeting and at present, according to the Department of Conservation, there may be some difficulty in having this area open to deer hunting. Nothing definite has developed on this matter.

The majority of the sportsmen attending were largely in favor of having the opening of trout season set back to May 1, as has been in the past.

The next meeting of the League will be held April 8.

"Knock Out Kollege" Draws Big Crowd

There was evidence, from the size of the crowd that attended "Knock Out Kollege" Friday night, that Grayling folk enjoy the dance revues that have been given at various times by the children and young people who attend the dancing classes of Kittie and Eddie Robinson. The high school auditorium was filled to capacity.

The first part of the program was given by the pupils of the Traverse City Dancing studios in the musical comedy "Knock Out Kollege," a skit with interesting, clever humor, colorful scenes, catchy song hits and snappy rhythmic dances that brought rounds of applause from the audience. The songs, used in the comedy were written by Eddie Robinson, who played the lead in the play opposite his sister, Kittie.

Grayling talent presented most of the numbers of the second part of the program, which was made up of tap dancing in group, duet and solo presentations. Talent, ranging from tiny tots who always fascinate the audience to young people, whose grace and rhythm was most delightful, kept the crowd in interested anticipation throughout the evening. The costumes were unusually beautiful and colorful and added greatly to the charm of dancing.

The entertainment was sponsored by the Grayling Kiwanis Club and was given for the benefit of the Boy Scouts, who acted as ushers and assistants for the evening.

Those from Grayling taking part included Emily and Sue Giegling, Patricia Mallingier, Mary Jane Joseph, Ruth Burrows, Gloria McNeven, Leona Burrows, Roberta Redhead, Burton Peterson, Patsy Hope Heric, Nelle Welsh, Caroline Nelson, Wanda Doroh, Beverly Peterson, Betty Underwood, Billyann Clippert.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH HAVING FATHERS AND SONS BANQUET

Plans are about complete for the Fathers and Sons banquet that will take place next Sunday evening at St. Mary's hall for the fathers and sons of the parish. The seating capacity of the banquet hall limits the number who may be accommodated, and is the reason that no tickets have been sold to anyone outside of members of the parish.

The banquet promises to be a very nice affair. Those in charge of arrangements include Mrs. George Burke general chairman; Mrs. Emil Kraus, program; Mrs. C. J. McNamara and Mrs. Holger F. Peterson tables and decorating.

Mr. John Donohue, prosecuting attorney of Roscommon county will be the speaker.

Kiwanians Celebrate Second Birthday

JUDGE PIERPONT WAS GUEST SPEAKER

Two years ago a charter was presented the local Kiwanis club. It was a big night and a large delegation from other clubs was present at the occasion. And one year ago the local club observed its first anniversary and last night the club celebrated its second birthday, with a dinner-dance at Shoppenagons Inn. There were about 80 present.

This being St. Patrick's day, decorations and the program were in keeping. A huge three tier birthday cake with two tapers graced the center of the speaker's table. Also in the centers and ends of the two long tables were American and Canadian flags.

The first part of the program was devoted to community singing, introductions of guests and members and the making of announcements. Judge Charles E. Moore was the toastmaster and began his part of the program by reading a number of telegrams received from near and far, and cablegrams from abroad, congratulatory to the occasion. A vocal duet by Mrs. Milnes and Mrs. Jarmin and a number of quartette selections by these ladies and Mrs. Gothro and Miss Bath were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Clippert was the accompanist.

"A Happy Birthday" was the title of the address given by Judge Arthur E. Pierpont of Owosso, judge of the municipal court of that city. His address will appear in full in the next issue of the Avalanche.

Among those present from out of the city were Mrs. Pierpont of Owosso, Mr. T. F. Marston and Mr. Unger of the East Michigan Tourist association, Bay City. The evening was spent in dancing, ending a very happy birthday occasion.

TROUT SEASON OPENING UNDER FIRE AT ROSCOMMON MEET

Emphatic dissatisfaction with the present date of the trout season opening was expressed Friday night when more than 100 sportsmen from Northern Michigan counties gathered at the courthouse in Roscommon for a discussion of several conservation problems.

Following a short talk by Rep. Frank C. Priest of the Antrim district, who told of mounting criticism of the opening date, which falls on the last Saturday in April, Sen. Miles Callaghan, of Reed City, who acted as chairman of the meeting, called for a vote on the question. Only two favored the present date. All others present leaned toward a May 1, or later, opening.

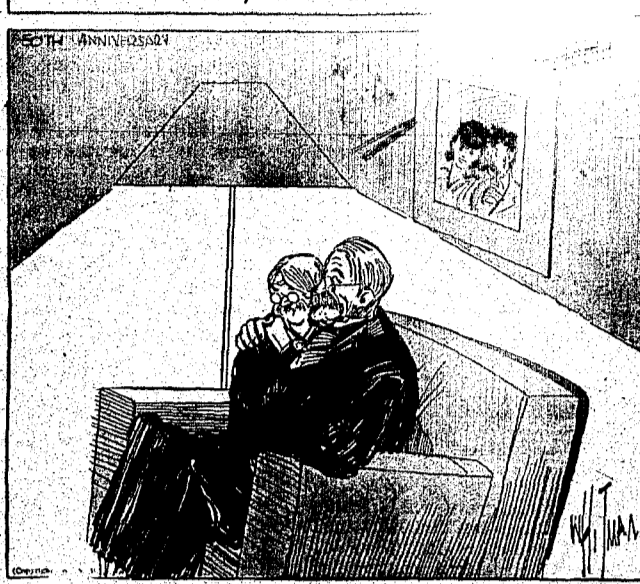

Other questions discussed included the rumored opening of the Hanson military reservation in Crawford county to deer hunting next fall. Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the game division of the conservation department, stated that a portion of the reservation may be opened, but that it was a certainty that the entire area will not be free to hunters. Petitions were presented asking that present fishing regulations on Houghton lake remain unchanged.

Other state representatives present at the meeting and at the banquet sponsored by the Roscommon Chamber of Commerce which preceded the discussion, included Rep. Frank P. Buza, of the Presque Isle district; Rep. Alexander M. (Sandy) McKay, of West Branch; Rep. Ralph Rowell, of Gogebic county; Rep. Arnold J. Weideman, of Mt. Pleasant, and Rep. Phillip J. Rahoi, of Dickinson county. All spoke briefly at the discussion at the high school, along with T. F. Marston, of Bay City, secretary-manager of the East Michigan Tourist association, Ruhl and Fred A. Westerman, chief of the fish division of the conservation department.

"UNDER THE KNIFE" a new murder-mystery story which introduces a new kind of interesting character, a girl detective-reporter, starts in next Sunday's Detroit News. Be sure to read this thriller by the famous Erle Stanley Gardner, outstanding author of mystery fiction, in This Week the magazine with the Sunday Detroit News.

No Mound Builders' Notes
It is not believed that the mound builders had any written language, as no inscriptions or tables indicate this, the inscriptions on rocks so common in the country they occupied being regarded by the highest authorities as of "doubtful parentage."

Love, Honor and Obey

The Mich. Mirror
Non-partisan News Letter
Michigan Press Association
By GENE ALLEMAN

Lansing—The idea of March this week find the Michigan state legislature much of the electorate, and thousands of industrial workers all on a "sit-down" strike.

Spring is scheduled to begin Saturday (March 20) but spring fever has already arrived.

The legislature is still in low gear. Leaders had been hopeful that Governor Murphy's return from Florida—coincident almost with President Roosevelt's departure for the South—might open the gates for the civil service bill (Murphy's No. 1 must).

The fresh epidemic of industrial "sit-down" strikes in Detroit and elsewhere put an end to this dreaming.

Voters "Sit Down" Too.
Approach of the April elections this week found both parties—democratic and republican—hurrying candidates on speaking trips and pushing plans for an aggressive "get-out-the-vote" campaign.

However, a lazy indifference exists in the public mind at present, and it has democratic chieftains frankly worried. There is no "F.D.R." to attract a big vote.

James F. Thompson, chairman of the Republican state central committee, was reported to be very pleased with prospects.

The nearest substitute for an "issue" was seen in the newly introduced appeal by democratic candidates for election of "liberal" justices to the state supreme court so that Murphy's "Little New Deal" might not be invalidated.

Billboard Control.
If you are interested in billboards, here are two items of news.

One major party is reported to be spending $16,000 on billboards for the spring political campaign.

The senate highways committee, headed by Senator George W. Weadock, reported favorably the Lamoreaux billboard restriction bill, sponsored by the Federation of Michigan Garden clubs. The state would assess a tax of $5 for each billboard erected in Michigan.

Cherry Crop.

A favorable spring may make the cherry crop in Michigan one of the biggest in years, so say the horticulturists. There was no large carryover of canned goods for the coming year, and with food prices already spiraling, the outlook is encouraging.

Price Fixing.
Fixed commodity through contract agreements between wholesalers and manufacturers and retailers would be legalized in Michigan, if a bill introduced by Representative Mervin W. Tomlin of Port Huron becomes a law. The measure was reported favorably by the house state affairs committee.

Designed after a fair trade law now effective in California and held constitutional by the United States supreme court, the Michigan bill would destroy much of existing competition between retailers in the sale of any article which bears the name or brand of the producer.

Farm Federation Opposes.
At Washington a similar measure known as the Tydings bill,

Here's that cast I told you to watch for in this week's news. And I didn't give you a bum steer. You haven't seen one like this since Anthony Adverse. Hazel Trudgeon needs no introduction to you. You saw her as the gay widow in "Harmony Hall," out to catch her fourth husband. Well she isn't catching husbands this time, she's catching life insurance. Is she mercenary? She wants the insurance before they're dead. This is by far Hazel's best role since she started her stage career.

Another one that needs no introduction is Alice Bond. I'd like to say more about Alice but I have not the time or space but I will say if you want to see a first class tattle-tale in action, just watch Alice next Wednesday night and you'll get the lowdown on how it's done.

Next in line is Bolton of the American Detective Agency, played by Richard Deming, and just in case you don't know who he is, he's the guy that's substituting for Frank Bond while Frank is in Ann Arbor (No, Frank is not having an operation). Now Richard mixes messes in the chemistry laboratory at school but he's really the politest detective I ever saw.

I'm going to tell you something now that is plain up and down every day facts. We've got a find here in Grayling that is a find. Do you know Cecil Roberts, History teacher at the school? If you don't know him you'd better get acquainted with him next Wednesday night. I'm just telling you he's a couple of Barrymores, Clark Gable, Zazu Pitts, Bill Powell and Lily Pons all in one package. I feel sorry (Continued on last page)

Forest Head To Speak In Grayling

COMMEMORATE ANNIVERSARY OF C. C. C.

Prof. P. A. Herbert, head of the Department of Forestry of Michigan State College, will be the principal speaker at a program to be held in the high school auditorium here on the evening of April 15, to commemorate the fourth anniversary of the creation of the Civilian Conservation Corps and Emergency Conservation Work. The public is invited to attend.

CCC Camps Higgins Lake, Ausable and Kalkaska will be represented by enrollees, technical personnel and Army personnel. Superintendents Andrew K. Braidwood, Emerson E. Frye and Glenn Marvin of those camps, respectively, are arranging the program.

In addition to Prof. Herbert's address, there will be shorter talks by local individuals representing sportsmen organizations, business men's associations, and various public agencies of communities in this area. There will also be two or three reels of Department of Conservation films depicting CCC activities and wildlife subjects.

The formal program will be announced later.

Legion Jottings

The Drum & Bugle Corps met at the hall Monday evening and had a good drill and practice from their newly-elected drum major, "Spike" McNeven. The rest periods were sure short. Go to it Spike, that's the way we like it.

Watch for the second Gala Night at Spike's Gardens March 29th, given by the Drum & Bugle Corps. There will be dancing, games, and so on for your enjoyment. This will be a party for all and the public is cordially invited to attend.

All members of the Drum & Bugle Corps are requested to be present next Monday evening at the Legion hall. This means you!

All Bills Automatically Die

Ind. Tournament Starting Tonight

Ten Teams Entered. Cash Prizes Offered. Big Crowds Expected.

The opening game of the Independent Invitational Basketball tournament scheduled for this week end will be at 7:00 o'clock tonight. You will see the local Hanson Cafe team playing the strong Gaylord quintet, followed by Roscommon against East Jordan at 8 o'clock. Spike's will play West Branch at 9 o'clock with the last game between Petoskey Bon Tons and Hannah-Loy Docks of Traverse City. Alma and Cheboygan were given a bye and they will play Friday night at 9:30.

Watch this array of teams fight for the prize of $25 with $10 for the runners-up. Local and neighboring fans will see the best teams in northern Michigan in action. Four games will be played on Thursday night; three on Friday, and the finals on Saturday night.

Alma, playing for the initial time on this floor, will be the "dark horse" of the tourney, but information is out that they have one of the strongest teams in years, and are determined to make it tough for their opponents. Cheboygan Merchants will be favored by many to cop the prize; in their lineup you will see ex-college stars displaying talent, with Ralph Clark, now signed up with the Detroit Lions professional football team for next fall, as one of the leading players. The Hanna-Loy Docks of Traverse City have the same lineup they had two years ago when they won the tournament here, and they have added additional stars to their roster and are determined to repeat their victory of two years ago.

The Petoskey Bon Tons will present a rangy team led by Dombroski their scoring ace so far this season, and will not be an easy team to eliminate. East Jordan has promised to send over a team that has lost but few games this year. Roscommon, has had its best record in years and will be plenty tough to defeat. Spike's quintet will have players from the famous Lumberjack team of the past; many fans have not forgotten this team. Gaylord will be down strong as usual and will give the Hanson Cafe squad a real battle in the opening round.

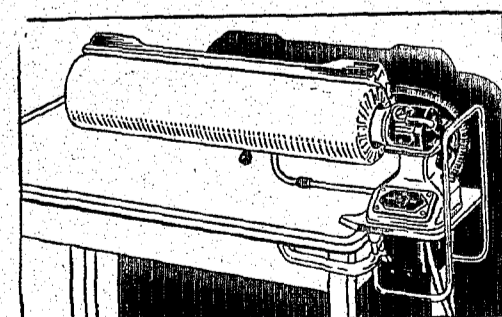

Games will be handled by competent officials.

A SOUND DOCTRINE

Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. We hold this to be a fundamental principle of democratic government.

TWO TOPICS seem to be quite in the forefront of discussion among conservationists and sportsmen. One is that of the date for opening the trout fishing season. The other is regarding the proposed opening for hunting of deer in the Hanson State Military reservation. We are opposed to the early opening of the trout fishing season. It seems desirable to have the opening day be on a Sunday; we believe that instead of opening on the last Sunday before May 1st that it should be changed to the first Sunday in May regardless of the date. We know that even a week or two later in May would please a large number of sportsmen. We are not in accord with other members of the Izaak Walton League in advocating the opening of the Military reservation for deer hunting. The League is doing a great work and Grayling has a fine large chapter and we want to be behind their efforts in every way, however when a member feels that he isn't in accord with any one or more of the League's policies, he is being a better member by saying so. We would leave these deer alone. Supposing a few deer do get old and even die of old age, what of it? All these years thousands of people have enjoyed seeing them in their wild state, and many a thrill has been had because of it. As a value, it is, we believe, far greater to keep these deer on exhibition than it is to offer them as attraction for the deer hunter. It is our opinion that the opening of the trout season should be on the first or second Sunday in May, and that the military reservation should be kept closed against hunting.

MORE REASONS WHY STATE CAPITOL SHOULD BE MOVED NORTH

Last week we mentioned the advantages of removing the Capitol from Lansing to a more central location, and casually mentioned what had been done by Australia. This State owns plenty of land in the northern part of the lower peninsula, above the hay fever line, near beautiful lakes and streams, suitable for the erection and maintenance of a State Capitol.

Why should not Michigan establish a Capitol District as did Australia? Such district could be one mile square, four miles square, nine miles square, sixteen miles square, or more. The establishment of a Capitol District was provided for in the Constitution of the United States, and we have the District of Columbia. It was provided for by Australia—and they have erected the Capitol in the new city of Canberra. Such district should be large enough so the Capitol building, State Office building, general library, and all other State buildings would have ample room—and such district should contain an ample, modern landing field, plane hangars, State garage, and State laboratories. It should provide recreational advantages, baseball parks, tennis courts, and other things, and should be landscaped in an attractive manner; located in the center of the winter and summer recreational activities of the State, near the center of the production of electrical energy, and just as near to the source of coal and gas as is Lansing. It would get State employees away from the smell of industrial paint ovens, smoke from manufacturing plants, and the nauseous odor emanating from the stagnant pond in the city of Lansing, as well as the constant hammering of the drop forges in a great industrial city.

Lansing would have no just cause to complain. It would still have the Vocational School and the School for the Blind, with Michigan State College near at hand. It would still have more than its fair share of State institutions.

If modern buildings were erected, the State could easily provide air conditioning and adequate ventilation. It could so erect those buildings that it would not be necessary to have storm windows on the inside as in the State Office building, or to rely upon the door and window system of ventilation as in the antique Capitol. Employees ought not to be compelled to work under the superheated roof of the State Capitol in low, poorly ventilated and poorly lighted rooms and have to be carried out because overcome with the heat from time to time, as was all too frequent during the last summer. Adequate elevator service could be installed, modern lighting provided, and crowding eliminated.

There is no sound economic reason why the State should continue to pay excessive office rental either in Lansing or in Detroit or elsewhere. If there is necessity for having State offices, established, the State ought to provide for housing the employees of such offices. If a Capitol District was acquired by the State and the Capitol located therein, the ground rental of the land for restaurants, hotels and other purposes would more than reimburse the State for all its expenditures. It would enable State employees who are compelled to live on meager salaries to get away from gouging landlords and excessive food prices necessitated by exorbitant rentals. It would enable the State to transact its business more satisfactorily and at lower average costs, and should the State acquire a Capitol District of substantial size and then resell the land for the purposes of being used by those who would be attracted by the new location of the Capitol, the State could undoubtedly get sufficient money from this source alone to defray the total cost and expense of erecting and maintaining all these new buildings.

Ought not the State of Michigan to wake up, make a survey of the situation, investigate the conditions under which employees are compelled to work? It will find that while the salary of State employees may seem large to upstate people, they are compelled to part with the greater part of their salaries for high room rent and high food prices, and that, on the same salaries under better conditions, such employees might be able to save something which they cannot do now.

APPLICANTS TO C. M. T. C. MUST APPLY PROMPTLY

With applications sufficient to fill nearly one third of the Michigan quota for the Citizens' Military Training Camps this summer, Colonel Ralph M. Parker of Detroit, commanding the Michigan Reserve District, has urged all young men who wish to attend the camps to apply at once. "While we are still able to accept more than 1,000 applications," Colonel Parker announced, "the fact that almost 500 young men sent in applications during the first two weeks after the camps were announced, indicates the widespread interest being shown in the C.M.T.C. this year. Therefore we are making every effort to see that each young man in the state who wishes to attend the camp is told about it in plenty of time to get his application filed."

"At the same time I want to urge every young man who is planning to attend the camps to make his application in plenty of time so he will not be disappointed."

The camps this year are to be held from July 6 to August 4, with most of the applicants from Michigan going to Camp Custer, near Battle Creek.

DOWN RIVER NEWS

George W. Mason was up to The Cabin on the South Branch Saturday, having driven here to see the beautiful river boats built for him by John Stephan. Mr. Mason says these boats are the most beautiful he ever saw. John says that if the demand for boats is any indication of what the summer business is to be it should be good as he has built six new boats this winter; several for Mr. D. B. Lee, of Detroit, who is building at the old Windiate place, and one for Mr. W. J. Blair of Detroit, who is among our most enthusiastic fishermen.

John says the otter have become so plentiful that he is afraid they may be a menace to our fishing. The South Branch in particular is overrun with these animals. A trip down the entire stream during winter shows otter signs at least once in every 100 feet. It is general opinion of the AuSable river guides who have been consulted in regards to the otter that a short open season should be in order for one season at least. If the summer fishermen could be on the river when they could see the signs of these otter they would be astonished at the number of these animals on the stream. The writer of this is one who travels these streams at all times of the year, under all conditions, and believes the otter should be considered by the general public if we expect to preserve our fishing on lakes and streams of Crawford county and all northern Michigan.

TO HEAR HIMSELF

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

TO BARK a hound enjoys
Just for the sake
Of hearing all the noise
That he can make.
No rabbit is around,
No stranger near,
He merely barks, the hound,
The bark to hear.

I do not blame the pup,
For I know men
Who also whoop it up
Now and again.
They speak no word of worth,
No bright remark;
They only want the earth
To hear them bark.

That hound that always yelps
Men cease to heed,
And shouting never helps
A man succeed.
You'll find, in all life's walks,
Upon the shelf
The man who merely talks
To hear himself.

FARMER BROWN'S BOY LOSES HIS TEMPER

IT WAS a long time since Farmer Brown's Boy had visited the Laughing Brook and the Smiling Pool, so of course he knew nothing about what had been going on there. One morning, having nothing else to do, he took it into his head to go over to the Smiling Pool to see how Jerry Muskrat was getting along. Jerry saw him coming and his heart was so filled with distrust because of what he had suffered from the said he, just as if he were talking to Jerry. "I've brought a couple of carrots for you and I hope you will enjoy them. You'll find them over by that favorite old log of yours." Farmer Brown's Boy pulled a couple of carrots from his pocket and walked over to the old log where Jerry had been caught. In the trap by his tail. When Farmer Brown's Boy got there he gave a little whistle of surprise. There were some pieces of carrot already there. Then Farmer Brown's Boy's face clouded. "I wonder what this means," said he, and at once began to look about. It didn't take him long to discover the trap fastened to the old log. "Ha! I thought so!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy, and his face became angry looking.

He reached down and got hold of the chain of the trap and pulled it free from the log. Then he tossed it up on the bank and at once went over to another favorite feeding place of Jerry's. There, just as he expected, he found another trap. This he also threw up on the bank, and his face looked angrier than ever.

Now Farmer Brown's Boy knew all about trapping, and, what is more, he knew all about the ways of Jerry Muskrat. So he went from place to place where he thought traps might be set. He found two more, and by this time he had quite lost his temper.

"I'd like to know who it is has dared to set traps here," he grumbled. "This is on our land, and everybody knows that we don't allow trapping. I guess I'll have to go up the Laughing Brook and see if there are more traps up there. I'll take these traps along with me, and whoever owns them will have to come up to the house to get them. Then I'll give him such a good piece of my mind that he won't do any more trapping along the Laughing Brook and around the Smiling Pool."

"I Guess You are Pretty Nearly Ready for Cold Weather," Said He.

trapper who had so nearly caught him that he actually suspected Farmer Brown's Boy.

"I used to think that I could trust Farmer Brown's Boy," muttered Jerry, "but I don't trust him. I don't trust anybody. As likely as not Farmer Brown's Boy has been friendly just so that he can take advantage of it." So Jerry promptly hid where Farmer Brown's Boy could not see him, but where he could watch Farmer Brown's Boy.

The latter was whistling, a habit he has when he is feeling happy. He came straight down to the bank of the Smiling Pool and there he stood for a few minutes looking at Jerry's house. "I guess you are pretty nearly ready for cold weather,"

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

HOW strange the language we repeat. Passed on as we receive it. She said she turned into a street; I hardly could believe it. When someone says he took a train I wonder how he hid it. You'd think the railroad would complain. Arrest him if he did it.

He phoned he'd give the girl a ring; He surely didn't mean it. He never sent or brought a thing. At least she hasn't seen it. "I'll make myself a piece of toast," She said, and never knew it. It was really something one could boast.

So very few can do it. "Just push me over Fido's tin, I'll put some food inside it." But how astonished she'd have been If anyone had tried it. How strange the phrases we employ.

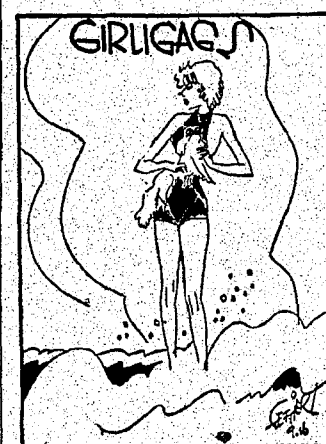

At divers times and places— Yes, even tell a girl and boy To go wash off their faces.

A sure figure-flatterer is this tailored jacket dress of brocade lace in a large four petal effect with nubby dots spread throughout the design. The dress is plain, with short sleeves, buttoning at the neck with large ball buttons in contrasting color to match the patent leather belt. ## THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis

© Public Ledger, Inc.

LOVE is strange, indeed. In one we may find it shaped and expressed through a wish to make the world a better place to live in—love for our fellow man. In another it may be of more selfish kind—desire of the "one-man" woman or the "one-woman" man to center the affections upon a single individual. In still another, it may be an overwhelming desire to love for love's own sake, sometimes unwisely and too well.

The thumb, if correctly analyzed, will usually indicate the kind of love the temperament is most likely to give and seek.

The Thumb of Responsive Love.

This thumb is always marked by resilient flexibility throughout its length. The entire thumb is gracefully proportioned, with evenly spaced first and second joints. The first joint is usually well tapered, rather fully fleshed on the side opposite the nail, and arched on the underside from the joint to the nail tip.

The second, or middle, joint is apt to be more curved than straight, although seldom pronounced in its slenderness. The third, or palm, joint is always much rounded and inclined to over-plumpness, this being accentuated when the thumb is pressed close to the edge of the hand. With the hand extended wide, the thumb stands out from the hand, sometimes almost at right angles to the palm.

All things being equal, a thumb with these characteristics is sure to indicate an extremely affectionate nature, one that is ardent though well controlled in matters of the heart, and generous to a fault where loved ones are concerned.

Do You Remember?

MR. E. H. WEBB
March 8, 1858 March 8, 1937
(By Daniel Jarmin)

Do you remember the boyhood days?
The good old games and the tricks we played?
We rolled the hoop and spun the top,
And when learning to skate went down with a flop.

The springboard in the old swimming pool,
Where we often shanghaied a day from school;
And with hook and line we went for a catch
Then over the fence to the melon patch.

Ah! But those are the days we can't forget;
Their memories tingle within us yet;
But as we grow older from day to day
More serious thoughts have come our way.

We meet a friend and it's "How do you do?"
In the same friendly way, "I am well, how are you?"
It makes one glad to meet such friends;
And may these friendships never end.

We'd not lay down the shovel and the hoe;
Nor yet hang up the old fiddle and the bow;
We are only seventy-nine and eighty-one—
Where old age has only just begun.

Many laps on the highway of life we have made;
We are still going on up to a higher grade.
And may we always keep this thought in view,
That the highway will appear more bright and new.

Each day we go out to follow the trail,
With the desire to succeed we must not fail.
And as our eyes steadily scan the goal,
May the sceneries of nature more beauties unfold.

We have had sorrow, trials and many strifes,
But we expect to meet those on this highway of life;
And so we are happy to know at the end of the day;
We have done our best on this old highway.

We have had joys and pleasure as we pass along;
And our hearts are filled with a merry song;
For the years that have gone we have no regrets,
May those in the future be the happiest and best.

The blessings in living is to gracefully grow old;
Its joys and its beauties are riches untold;
With the haven of rest just near by
And the angels will guide us to our home in the sky.

—Dan Jarmin.

Grayling Group I

Grayling Group No. 1 of the Home Economics Extension held the meeting for the fourth lesson at the home of Mrs. Eugene Papendick, March 2. Eleven members were in attendance.

The topic of discussion was "Foundation Garments and Posture." The lesson was very interesting. Mrs. Earl Broadbent and Mrs. Hurl Deckrow, project leaders, directed the lesson.

More about the slip cover purses was learned. Some had purses finished.

At this meeting the different accomplishments learned from previous lessons were turned in to the project leader. By the next regular lesson which will be presented sometime in April, all requirements needed to receive certificates must be given to the leader.

Discussion about what each group would do for Achievement Day, which will be held in Grayling sometime in May, was stressed. Grayling Groups I and II are to have the presentation of the second lesson on color and line. This means work for each member; also hearty cooperation of both groups. Perhaps these groups can make a good showing—let's all try.

It was learned that the most prominent summer colors are to be beige, green and blue.

Several excellent exercises were learned to help make good posture.

A contest for the purpose of choosing the correct accessory for the right costume was given and Mrs. Barton Wakeley received the prize, which was a dress-accessory.

THREE LIVE GHOSTS
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24TH

for you if you fail to meet him. Kind of an old hand at the business is Don Youngs. Sure, you all know Don. He knows all your intimate secrets. Picks them right off the wires. Don plays the part of William Foster, the American on the spot-most of the time. No, I don't mean Don, I mean the American. He's another treat we've got in store for you. Watch him.

And poor Judge Moore. I do hate to tell you this but the Judge is suffering from shell-shock and he does such queer things. Walks off with butter knives, lemon squeezers, and—but I couldn't be telling you what else he did. After all he's a judge and he's looked up to in this community and to print what he did would be doing him wrong, but it will be doing yourself wrong if you miss seeing him as "Spoofy" with the shell-shocked mind.

Do you know Jessie Bath? She teaches all your little boys and girls to run up and down the piano keys as lightly as a goose feather, and she teaches your big boys and girls how to blow in a horn three times as big as themselves, and she sings in the choir and the glee club and any odd jobs you happen to have from running errands to piling wood. She plays the part of a proud daughter of the rich, down to her last penny and painting bowls for a living.

You all know the fellow around town that washes everything but the baby? Well he isn't washing babies or shirts or anything else next Wednesday. He's a flatfoot and say, he makes Melvin Purvis and Edgar Hoover look like they're going to kindergarten. Watch "Hawk" solve the jewel mystery. Benson is his assistant, and the part is played by Joseph Stripe. Joe is the manual training teacher at school—the fellow that makes tables, chairs, book ends, etc. If you want any new furniture made, call Joe, but don't call him when he's totin' a gun and a pair of handcuffs, because it might not be healthy for you.

Bea Hoesli is an excellent star. All of you who saw the Womans Club play "Lavender and Red Pepper" last Monday night will vouch for that, but Bea has asked for a vacation this time and so I had to tell her off easy. I was going to tell you what she is doing in the play but you will have to see for yourselves.

Now here is the surprise I've held up to the last. That famous trio of "Alexander's Rag-time Band" fame are back—TONY NELSON, AXEL LARSON, and DON KOIVUNEN in person. Now they are worth the price of the ticket alone and if you miss them don't say I didn't warn you. Besides this famous attraction there will be in-between acts that will take your breath away.

Remember this is for a good cause so turn out and give "Doc," "Butch," and Frank a break. Help them to swell their quota for the underprivileged child fund. Help that youngster to get a summer he won't forget.

"THREE LIVE GHOSTS" Wednesday night, March 24th, at 8:00 o'clock at the school. All Kiwanians and the larger group of Campfire girls will have tickets for sale and the reserve seats can be purchased at Chris Olsen's drug store. Remember the date, opportunity knocks but once, and you won't see this again.

Produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, New York City.

Novel Method For Furnishing Music

The school has a novel method for use in furnishing music for school parties. An amplification system combined with a Victrola gives plenty of music and plenty of volume. The cost of school parties is reduced to the absolute minimum, and the money raised goes to buy new records, buy needles, and recharge the storage battery which furnishes the juice. The result is fun for the greatest possible number at the smallest cost to each student. One hundred thirty-three paid admission to the last school party.

At this party students had a chance to indicate what dance orchestras they liked best, and what songs they preferred. The results were interesting, and are to be used in buying records for future parties. The list of orchestras is as follows:

Wayne King, Phil Harris, Kay Keyser, Ted Flo-Rito, Guy Lombardo, Glen Grey, Benny Goodman.

The most popular pieces included the following:

"When did you leave heaven," "Lonely," "Melancholy Baby," "St. Louis Blues," "Love Marches On," "This Year's Kisses," "Did Your Mother Come From Ireland?"

Had you heard that Mr. Deming's Science 8 class ran over fifteen minutes one day? Right into the noon hour, too. Interested boys. Bob Welsh copper-plated a key in that science class one day recently.

The Hot Lunch club girls wound up their season with a party Wednesday night. Guests were invited and victrola music was useful. A meal was prepared in the Home Economics room.

Some students stay in for 8th hour voluntarily. Just wanted to study my geography," one Seventh Grader explained.

The Class tournament furnished lots of fun for a lot of people. The admission, collected in coppers, is used to keep the trophy engraved. Some hot competition usually results, and this year was no exception. The basketball finale of the year.

The Seniors were measured for caps and gowns for graduation. It's getting steadily closer to commencement. There are 27 Seniors in this year's class.

The school party was put on by girls of the Glee Club, who are hoping to partially finance a trip to East Jordan in May. The nickel admission is designed to allow as many students to come as possible. The good time is the objective.

Donkey Basketball

You may have heard or seen Donkey Baseball. Wait until Donkey Basketball makes its bow to local fans. A game has been arranged for March 31st in the local gym. The proceeds go to apply on the athletic season's deficit. It's lots of fun any way you look at it.

Leather shoes which cover the entire hoof and have rubber non-skid pads on the bottom, make the game safe for the floor and for players also. Wednesday night should be a big night—the 31st of March. Plan to come and see this unusual attraction.

Girl's Manual Arts Class

With the Boy's Home Economics class dabbling in pies and oatmeal it would seem to be only right that the girls of Grayling High School should invade the Manual Arts department and receive the last word on how to fix that swinging screendoor while your brother cries the eggs. At any rate something like

Altes Lager

ALWAYS THE SAME GOOD BEER

GENERAL ISRAEL PUTNAM 1718-1790
General Israel Putnam, ardent patriot and brave soldier in the Revolutionary war, was a tavern-keeper and a practical brewer. As soon as the war was over he returned to his chosen profession—the brewing of beer to his own recipe. General Putnam knew the value of a proven private recipe, for his tavern was a profitable and popular gathering place for those who preferred a beverage that was different and better. The sign that hung before his tavern door in 1768 is now preserved in the rooms of the Historical Society at Hartford, Conn.

Private recipes are important only when they produce something different and better than the ordinary. Today, Altes Lager is an outstanding example of this fact. Louis W. Schimmel, brewer for over half a century, sought for many years with untiring effort to perfect the private recipe to which Altes Lager is brewed. The final result of his labor brought immediate success for this now famous beer. Altes Lager has gained an enviable reputation far and wide for its superior quality and distinctive flavor. It is Mr. Schimmel's private recipe that produces this different and better beer and makes successful imitation impossible.

of the girls arranged to try the manual training and reported all set for action on Tuesday night after school. Mr. Stripe took charge of activities and a forty-five minute period crammed with interest followed.

"The object of this class," Mr. Stripe stated when interviewed, "is to teach the names and uses of the common wood-working tools. The first project will be the making of an accurate six-inch rule. After that other articles will be attempted, with the girls having a choice as to what they will be."

It is planned to continue the course through the rest of the year and to give a fractional credit for the work if the course is completed satisfactorily. Some handy girls with the hammer should result.

BIG BAY IS HUMMING WITH ACTIVITY

Big Bay—Almost a "ghost town" for the last four years, Big Bay today is well on its way to regaining its place as an important lumbering center.

Before the depression years Big Bay was a thriving mill town of more than 1,000 inhabitants. In 1932 the Brunswick Lumber company closed its mill, because of business conditions, and Big Bay seemed destined to fade out, but in July of last year the Kerry and Hanson Lumber company bought the plant from Brunswick and began overhauling and rehabilitating it.

Large Output.
For the last few months the sawmill has been turning out an average of 40,000 board feet of lumber a day, while the pin mill, which began running about a week ago, produces 3,000 pins daily.

At one time nearly 150 houses were occupied here. Many were sold, after the Brunswick plant closed, for a small part of their value and were moved from the town—some to Marquette and some to sites along the Big Bay-Marquette highway. Others are now being used as camps.

About 48 houses are let and all are in use. The town now has from 300 to 350 inhabitants.

The Kerry and Hanson firm has its own camp where logs are cut and hauled here by truck. About 2,000,000 feet of lumber is stored near the mill in preparation for the spring breakup when woods trails will be impassable.—The Mining Journal, Marquette.

CANCER PREVENTION WEEK,
MARCH 21-27 INCLUSIVE

Gov. Murphy has proclaimed the week of March 21 as "Cancer Week" in Michigan.

For the past several years, through education, people are coming to recognize cancer in its very early stages, which in most cases, if medical attention is given, means its cure. This education coupled with the study and research work of our medical science is found to lessen the ravages from this dreadful disease, which is causing an alarming death rate.

Through literature which is being presented by medical associations and organizations for the prevention of cancer the public is becoming familiar with the first signs of the disease and with this fact in mind cancer prevention week was instituted.

Unneeded Restraint

Congress is debating the Pettengill bill which, in substance, would permit the railroads to compete with intercoastal steamships.

The clause of the Interstate Commerce law which the bill would repeal was perhaps once beneficial, but has become restrictive.

No like prohibition governs the railroads' land, air and water competitors, and none is contemplated for them. It applies to the rails alone, with the original need for it non-existent—imposing a handicap on them while it confers advantages on their competitors.

Repeal of this clause will hurt no one; will make lower rail rates eventually not improbable; will create an additional 100,000 railroad jobs.

Nor will it reduce the ICC's powers; or enable the rails to charge rates that are unreasonable or unduly low so as to eliminate competition, or to raise rates if competition did disappear.

The bill is favored by great bodies of shippers, by trade organizations, by the railroads and railroad labor. It is opposed by steamship interests and coastal industries who would retain unfair advantages over inland competitors.

America's railroads face the most unprecedented competition in their history. Unneeded restraints, like this obsolete clause, should be removed that the lines may better be able reasonably, and legally, to compete.

Michigan, and its railroads, will benefit from the repeal. Support for the Pettengill bill should be asked of the State's delegation in Congress.
